The graph illustrates the comparison between the actual output (red line) and the multi-step prediction (blue dashed line) knowing input and initial condition of output over time steps. The output values fluctuate significantly, indicating a dynamic system. The time step is marked on the x-axis, and the output is on the y-axis, ranging from 0.2 to 2.0.